ISSN: 2454-2016

Dear Distinguished Fraternity,

Warmest Greetings,

Engineer's Publication House is a peer-reviewed, open access scholarly journal that publishes original research works and review articles in all areas of the computer science including computer networks, communications, telecommunications and its applications for wired and wireless networks.

EPH mainly focuses and prefers papers with successful practical work, comprehensible description, and clear framework for mathematical modelling and algorithm. This Journal provides a challenging forum for academic, scientists and industrial professionals to discuss recent progress in the area of future generation communication, information security and networking. Authors are solicited to contribute to the journal by submitting articles that illustrate research results, projects, surveying works and industrial experiences. The monthly journal is intended, in its publications, to stimulate new research ideas and foster practical application from the research findings. The journal publishes original research of such high quality as to attract contributions from the relevant local, regional and international communities.
