

Chronic Osteomyelitis Of The Mandible Following Tooth Extraction In Hiv Infection.

Asseri, L; Nguvumali, H L; Matee, M I; Chindia, M L

<http://erepository.uonbi.ac.ke:8080/xmlui/handle/123456789/35012>

Date: 1997

Abstract:

A case is presented of refractory chronic osteomyelitis of the left mandible arising after a tooth extraction in HIV infection. The challenges of prompt diagnosis and the dilemma of satisfactory management are highlighted. It is imperative that dental and oral health providers have a particularly high index of suspicion of conditions that occur in HIV infection so that early identification and appropriate management may be instituted.