

Wangari Maathai Institute for Peace and Environmental Studies' 2014/2015 PhD class visited the Kijabe Environment Volunteers(KENVO) as part of their experiential learning. KENVO is a community based organisation with membership drawn from the local residents bordering the Keirita Forest. KENVO works to conserve the biologically rich Kikuyu Escarpment Forests and other natural resources in Lari Division for their biodiversity importance and support to the livelihoods of the local community.
